JUDGE WILL A. YOUNG

As confidently predicted in the ADVOCATE several weeks ago, Gov. James B. McCreary on Saturday accepted the resignation of Hon. Allie W. Young as Judge of the Twenty-first Judicial District and appointed his brother, former Commonwealth's Attorney Will A. Young, of Morehead, to succeed him. The appointment is for two years. ### Philadelphia Triumphs Over New York in World's Series.

The Philadelphia Athletics won the base-ball championship of the world for 1913 Saturday afternoon by defeating the New York Giants, 3 to 1, in the fifth and deciding game of the series.

With the score of games standing 3 to 1 in their favor the American League representatives went in to clinch the series and before the masterly playing of the Mackmen the National Leaguers had absolutely no chance. Connie Mack, anxious to finish the struggle on the final day of the week, sent Eddie Plank, his veteran southpaw, to the mound and John McGraw, his back to the wall, called upon Christy Mathewson to check the victorious rush of the Athletics and thus gain for his team a breathing spell.

Both teams played great ball but the Giants were out-classed and had it not been for the powerful Mathewson the Giants would have not won a single game.

The score of each game was as follows: First game, Philadelphia 6; New York 4. Second game, New York 3; Philadelphia 0. Third game, Philadelphia 8; New York 2. Fourth game, Philadelphia 6; New York 5. Fifth game, Philadelphia 3; New York 1.

PLAYERS DIVIDE MUCH MONEY.

It certainly won't be due to any financial inducements that Mack can offer, for Plank, in company with the other forty-nine players who participated in the series last week will divide $135,163.89 between them on the basis of 60 per cent to the winners and 40 per cent to the losers.

The stockholders of each of the clubs will also have $79,109.50 to divide as a result of their players' drawing powers during the world's series. The National Commission received $32,598 for overseeing the five-game contest, the entire gate receipts amounting to $325,980.89 coming from the pockets of 151,000 fans who paid to witness the play. The profits of the ticket speculators are not available at this time.

The players' share of the receipts ceased with Friday's game, so they were not financially interested in to-day's attendance, which totaled 36,682, for gross receipts of $75,676.50

TOTAL ATTENDANCE AND RECEIPTS OF THESE SERIES.

Attendance—151,000.
Receipts—$325,980.89.
Players' Share—$135,163.89
Clubs' Share—$158,219.
Commission's Share—$32,598.

The great Trans-Louisiana was won by the game little mare Cheaney. Peter McCormick was a starter in this race and was timed in 2.06 and finished third two heats, but on account of split heats did not get any of the money.

Ross B. was the winner in the free-for-all trotts beating the Anvil in 2.04. The Lexington was postponed from Saturday until Monday and was won by Lady Waneta in 2.10; Alma Forbes formerly owned by Mr. J. R. Mowowan, of this city, was fourth.

The Championship Stallion Stakes was won by Don Chenault in straight heats in 2.074; with Sweet Spirit second. This year has been the greatest year in the history of the track. Ulian, the king of trotters, trotted a mile hitched to a runner in 1.544; the record had been in 2.03. He will start against his record of 1.58 some time this week.

Save the Calves.

A bill is before Congress which would make the slaughtering of calves unlawful in the United States for a certain time—two years we believe. The object of the bill is to compel cattle owners to raise the calves to maturity and thus help to restore American herds. This bill is not likely to receive consideration before the regular session of Congress beginning next December.

How Rich Are You?

A man is as rich as he feels, and a woman as rich as she appears. The man measures his wealth by the difficulty with which the bills are met and his wife measures by the style in which they live.

"They have five servants and two automobiles," is often a feminine description of the family when the masculine estimate of their wealth would be, "Jones is well rated and pays cash," or the reverse.

But inasmuch as all things are said to be comparative it is interesting to run over the statistics of American incomes upon which the total to be raised by the income tax is figured.

If you are a Kentuckian, whose income is between $3,000 and $25,000, you are one of about 9,000 in Kentucky. If you have from $25,000 to $50,000 only 180 Kentuckians can afford to build as fine homes and burn as much gasoline as you can afford. If you have above $50,000 a year less than three score of your fellow citizens can afford to be as disregardful of the chauffeur's and butler's graft, the milliners' and dressmakers' special taxes upon your income, and other elements of the high cost of living. If you have above $100,000 only seventeen other Kentuckians, so far as can be discovered, match you in temporal welfare.

But richer is the family which has $5,000 a year and finds comfort and contentment in the expenditure of $4,000 than the family which has $25,000 and an annual deficit.

The way some folks burden their first baby with a name makes it appear as if they never expected to need any left over for any others.

It is not necessary for a young man and woman to explain to their friends that they are in love.

Summary of Tobacco Situation.

Concerning the tobacco situation in Kentucky and Tennessee, the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse Co. furnishes the following summary at the close of the week ending September 20:

The tobacco crop is, to a great extent, cut and housed. The fact that the rains of the summer and early fall were entirely local in character render it impossible to characterize in a general way as to the probable quality or character of the crop. Some sections, limited in area, had sufficient rain to produce good tobacco, and probably no locality had rain enough to injure the crop. In many districts the drought was prolonged, the effect of which was augmented by a season of unusually high temperature making it necessary to cut tobacco before it fully matured. We have made diligent and extensive investigation for the purpose of becoming as well posted as possible, regarding the characteristics that will likely attach to the tobacco crop grown this year.

As is often the case the crop in many parts of the State made surprising progress after the middle of August, showing an unexpected outcome. As to Burley tobacco, we expect to see the crop show some tobacco of especially fine quality, both as to color and texture, as a natural result from the sections which had enough rain to mature the crop, and at no time enough to impair its quality. That the crop as a whole will yield a smaller percentage than usual of rich, red livery leaf, seems most likely, and that the proportion of the crop of the character that finds into the smoking brands of the trade will be larger than usual, appears equally probable.

True it must be that the Burley crop that goes from the fields to the barns this year will be far short of the crop which was housed in 1912. As to the crop of dark tobacco speaking comprehensively, it started with a greatly acreage, as compared with last year, which was followed in many localities by weather unfavorable to growth. Investigation directed to the larger part of the dark-producing territory would lead to the conclusion that the crop to this year as to substance and color will be an improvement over that of last year, with crops of exceptionally fine quality in the limited areas favored with adequate rain, but with the crop containing much less than the usual proportion of long tobacco.

Parcel Post Great

Help to Farmers.

With its now enlarged and extended provisions, the Parcel Post is proving a great convenience to all classes of citizens. Farmers especially find that with the enlarged scope and the increased weight limit of packages which may be carried, there is presented to them a means of opening up and maintaining a profitable trade with consumers in towns and cities. By this means the high cost of living is relieved to some extent for the town dweller, and farmers who go to the trouble to build up a Parcel Post trade find that a larger share of the consumer's dollar will come into their possession instead of being diverted into other channels.

Satisfying a Customer Carried to an Extreme

By HOLLAND.

A WOMAN who bought a dress which she found was not just what she wanted went with it to one of the biggest stores in the world and said it did not suit her. She wanted her money back, but explained that she had lost the sales slip. The sum she claimed was given to her.

Two days later she found the sales slip and discovered that she had not bought the dress at the store to which she had taken it, but had bought it at a rival establishment. She went to the store and explained.

"We knew you had not bought the dress here," explained the manager, "but you were palpably dissatisfied with it, and our aim is to satisfy all our customers. If we have impressed on your mind the fact that we are more than fair we are satisfied. We covet nothing more than such a reputation as we are sure you will give us."

Many will think that this was carrying fairness too far. Perhaps it was, but it was done by the greatest retail merchant of this age, one whose name is known wherever the English language is spoken and whose expenditures for advertising run up to a million dollars a year.

Successful advertisers know that satisfied customers are an invaluable asset. You have an advantage in dealing with the liberal advertisers

ALLOWS THE COMMISSION PLAN.

In the regular of several hundred leading residents of Montgomery County there will be submitted to the voters at the coming November election the question of whether or not the local affairs of our county shall be conducted by a Fiscal Court composed of Magistrate or by a Board of Commissioners composed of the County Judge and three Commissioners elected from the county at large, and over whether a good government should not only vote but work for the adoption of the commission plan.

The office of Magistrate being a constitutional office cannot be abolished under the present law, but the local affairs, if the people desire it, can be conducted in a more simplified as above explained. If the people desire the Magistrate & it have nothing to do with the local affairs of the county. They will have control in the county, perfect marriage ceremonies and many measures useful in many ways in the present while the Fiscal Court will be composed, as would be the case, by just three officers of the County Judge and three Commissioners elected from the county at large.

As the Magistrate receives $12.00 a meeting and the Commissioners would receive $6.00 the cost to the taxpayer would be reduced considerably and the people of the entire county get an opportunity to judge the administration the standard is necessarily elevated. Every citizen of the local court is to be found to be an improvement and efficiency and want in place of the old impotent, unbusinesslike and slow pastel officer are the opposite.

The reason as we have repeatedly said, is not a criticism of the Magistrate. I hope to see that they can under the obsolete system. I am in no way at fault and the reason we remove the trouble and expense of qualifying them is that their place is the forefront of the public service of Kentucky.

JOHN A. CANARD.

John A. Canard, Democratic candidate for Mayor of Mt. Sterling, has had the courage to say now in a resolution to the effect that he will not be properly perform his office, if elected, in the following manner: "I do hereby October 22, 1913.

In the name of Mt. Sterling.

I am informed & know a copy of a notorious circular to the effect that I cannot Mayor I will be absent from the city most of the time. It is now well known I have never been accepted the Democratic nomination for Mayor. As a matter of fact I am unopposed & as far as I am, according my report is getting about 1000 votes there and have arranged to be a candidate only after January 1st, 1914, so that I can serve your Mayor I will be the only at all time a part of my administration will strive to give you as much as I can & as far as I can for administration as I am capable of doing. Very respectfully,

C. K. O'Donnell."

Everyone who knows Mr. O'Donnell will search for anything he says. He is not capable of a mis-understanding and the voters need have no fear about the future of the other being neglected because of absence from the city.

The platform adopted by the Democrats of Fayette County is admirable to say the least, but its first plank is "We believe that with a Fiscal Court composed of the County Judge and three commissioners better results in the management of the fiscal affairs of the county could be obtained than under the present system." "Tis true as gospel.

Mrs. McCormick has been guaranteed $1,500.00 for one appearance in New York. No dear reader, all the fools are not yet dead. McCormick was right. The American public likes to be humbugged.

We don't know the cause for the impetus, but we are glad to testify that work on Mayfield street has progressed more rapidly since the beginning of last week than ever before.

A wedding which is quite a surprise to friends throughout Kentucky is that of Mrs. Virginia Heflin Turner of this city to Mr. Nathan L. Lytle, of Mexico City, Mexico. The wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Heflin, parents of the bride, at 11:30 Thursday morning with only the immediate families present. The bride is one of Fleming's most attractive and talented young ladies and will be greatly missed by her numerous friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Lytle was formerly of this city but lately has made his home in Mexico City, Mexico, where he is a very successful business man.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. B. Gatlin, pastor of the Baptist Church of Flemingsburg. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lytle left by way of Maysville for Washington and New York and after visiting points in the East will sail from New York for their home in Mexico City.

The bride has often visited in Mt. Sterling, where she has many friends and relatives who will be interested to learn of her wedding.

THE LATEST ADDER
Costs But $35.00

See our exhibit—ask for 10 days' trial

Here is a new price on a competent Adder. On a machine that is rapid, full-size and infallible.

The very latest machine, built by men who know, in one of the largest metal-working shops.

It is an individual Adder, to be placed on one's desk, close to one's books and papers. To take the place of the central machine requiring skilled operators.

It is also intended for offices and stores where costly machines are a luxury.

The price is due to utter simplicity, and to our enormous output. Seven keys do all the work.

Each copied number is shown up for checking before the addition is made.

The machine will add, subtract and multiply. With very slight practice anyone can compute a hundred figures a minute. And the machine never makes mistakes.

Countless offices, large and small, are getting from these machines the highest class of service.
